MINORITY LANGUAGE EDUCATION RIGHTS

Purpose: To identify those students who have a legal right to receive their education in French.

Description: A student is eligible to receive educational instruction in French if they are a Canadian citizen and one of the following conditions exists:

1. Either parent's first language learned and still understood is French
2. Either parent received their primary school instruction in Canada in French
3. If one or more children in the family have received primary or secondary school instruction in Canada in French.

Is this student eligible for instruction in all subjects in the French language in accordance with Section 23 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms?

Are you claiming entitlement to a francophone education under the terms of the School Act?

Yes No

In Alberta, parents can only exercise this right by enrolling their child in a Francophone (French First Language) program offered by a Francophone Regional authority.

Note: This question does not refer to studying French as a Second Language (e.g. French 10, 20, 30)

CUSTODY

In rare instances, a child may be the subject of a protective court order (e.g. restraint order). In other instances, an order or an agreement made pursuant to legislation affecting guardianship rights, custody or access rights to the student may be issued. If any such orders or agreements exist, a copy will be required to be placed upon the student record to ensure that each party's rights can be properly respected.

Please indicate if any such order or agreements exist: (YES if "True") Yes _____ No _____

Note: If 'yes' please make arrangements to provide a copy to the school and to discuss the situation with school administration.

INDEPENDENT STUDENT STATUS

The School Act defines an independent student as someone who is 18 years of age or older; or 16 years of age or older and who is living independently or who is a party to an agreement under section 57.2 of the Child, Youth and Family Enhancement Act.

Are you claiming status as an independent student under the definition of the School Act?

Yes No

LEGAL GUARDIANSHIP

Effective October 2005, amendments to the School Act provide that a parent is the guardian as set out in section 20 of the Family Law Act ("FLA"); Part 5 of the Child Welfare Act; Part 1, Division 5 of the Child, Youth and Family Enhancement Act; or section 23 of the FLA; a temporary or permanent guardianship order under the Child Welfare Act; or an order of the court or an agreement made in accordance with family law legislation.

While a parent is usually the legal guardian of their child, that is not always the case. Guardianship rights can be shared by parents or can be lost. As a student's right to attend any particular school is based upon the residence of the 'parent', and as it is the parent who exercises the various powers, responsibilities and entitlements as a guardian under the School Act, it is important that a school board determine who the legal guardians are for any particular child.

The FLA provides that, subject to any order of a court regarding guardianship of the child, the mother and father of the child are both the guardians of the child where the mother and father:

were married to each other at the time of the birth of the child;

were married to each other and the marriage was terminated by a decree of nullity of marriage, or a judgement of divorce granted less than 300 days before the birth of the child;

married to each other after the birth of the child;

cohabitated with each other for 12 consecutive months during which time the child was born; or were each other's adult interdependent partners at the time of the birth of their child or became each other's adult interdependent partners after the birth of their child

If the above does not describe your relationship, guardianship is determined based on residence of the child. Section 20(3) of the FLA provides that the mother and the father are both the guardians of the child until such time as the child usually begins to reside with one of the parents, at which time that parent becomes the sole guardian of the child; or if the child lives with both parents, or alternatively, with (section 44), where a child's guardians live separately and in different school jurisdictions, the guardians shall choose one or the other of the school jurisdictions as the school system where the child will attend school.

Despite subsection 20(3) of the FLA, if both parents agree in writing, both parents continue to be the guardians of the child even after the child begins to usually reside with only one of them. A parent with whom the child has usually resided for one year is the guardian of the child, even if the child no longer resides with that parent.

The FLA is the provincial legislation that defines guardianship rights in Alberta. Parental rights may also be described using the terms of custody and access in case where the parties are divorced or have commenced legal proceedings under the Divorce Act. The School Act provides that where a person claims to be a parent or guardian, or claims the existence of any limitation on the authority of a parent or guardian, the onus is on that person to provide proof of the claim.

Please provide to the principal of your school, copies of any orders or agreements addressing guardianship rights, responsibilities, and entitlements or otherwise affecting the custody of or access to your child or child's information.
